

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

PPI NAMED AS CERTIFIED RESELLER AND TRAINING FACILITY FOR SEATTLE-BASED "BASEPIN"

Portland, OR and Kent, WA 10/01/09 - The PPI Group announced today that they have partnered with the local Seattle firm, Basepin, as a certified reseller and training facility for the Pacific Northwest. The web-based management system, Basepin allows project stakeholders, such as Owners, Architects & Contractors, to collaborate in real-time and improve design coordination, communication flow, information accessibility, issue documentation, and accountability.

Other reasons why this system helps you work smarter, not harder:

1. Basepin eliminates unnecessary RFI's.
2. A web-based system, so you don't have to bog down your servers.
3. An affordable solution compared to other solutions.
4. Offers the construction industry a highly effective method for managing MEPS design coordination.
5. Delivers fully coordinated Construction Documents to your field crew.
6. Basepin Close-Out (Punch-list) tool expedites project completion for all participants.
7. Basepin allows team members to manage web-tools without additional specialized staff.
8. Dashboard is fully customizable to your firm's needs.
9. Basepin fosters a collaborative work environment.
10. All project stakeholders share the same goals and expectations.

PPI's long standing commitment to the Building Design industry doesn't stop with offering Autodesk solutions and field equipment/supplies. We are constantly looking for better tools that our customers can use to resolve business issues, while increasing coordination and productivity among their teams. Teo Micu, PPI's MEP expert and a seasoned veteran who worked in the industry, says, "If you value efficiency, accountability and clear communication among your team members, Basepin is a must have on all your projects. Forget the days of miscommunication and incorrect data regarding the status of the project, individual goals and tasks. With Basepin we can not only finish our project, but finish it well."
